

Continued with taxonomic unit spreadsheet for agent-based model. Looked into information about the lac operon and possibly integrating this into our gene circuit to control various functionalities.