

Looked at study for 3D microbiome map and gathered data for agent-based model. Meeting to discuss gene circuit and optimisation of the shinorine component - fixed SBOL for the preliminary component. Designed an R module to extract tabular microbiomic information from the data obtained above. Further continued to look at the gene circuit safety such as kill switches